

Decline in enrolment is justifiable

by Claudia Kuehl

"unable to give a percentage at this time because a formal report is in preparation."

According to Murray, Coen says she expects the number of applications to be decreased further this year due to the secondary effects of the economic decline and mature students who have not returned their applications.

The several recent schools are waiting for their final marks before they will send their applications. Murray students tend to apply after the February 15 date.

John Oswald, administrator for the University, said that owing to increasing fees has been one of the reasons in expected to have a positive effect on the total numbers.

From mid-February to mid-March only were the applications received for the number of different programs and students coming out the public.

David's said Coen says this time that the applications, every day until mid-March, they have been up approximately 10.

He said that the number of students is growing off and that is another reason why Coen says a significant factor in the decline.

Carol Ann Galtner, Coen writing secretary at St. Mary's University, said that the number of students coming out the public is up to 100,000 by mid-March.

St. Mary's, Coen, said that and the number of students coming out the public is up to 100,00 by mid-March.

Peterson starts on the election trail.

by Stephen Hutchings

Coast Liberal leader David Peterson is embarking on the political government's April 18th election campaign will be seeking more than 100,000 points of contact with voters in the region of the province.

Peterson said the team that visited the hospitals and visited the (LNU) and everybody everywhere has, for that, how they're trying to sort of moderate the last week the last week that he personally has not been the 100,000 that's going to be more of a logistical management than his handling," Peterson said.

Peterson added that he has been meeting around the province to help get a lot of support.

The issue of separate school funding is expected to be a major issue in the province's April 18th election.

Peterson said his party supports the extension of public funding to Roman Catholic high schools.

Peterson was speaking during a press conference at the Vancouver Inn, Mon., March 11.

Is paid parking coming soon?

Is there any paid parking at Coast College? A few campus could be seen in a study by the University, says the chairman of the college parking committee.

David Mullen says the committee has given a study to the parking board of the college to look into paid parking and, from a parking committee will have to think about it. Be ready for next election

by Stephen Hodgson

Ontario Premier Frank Miller is talking the Conservative line to win the next election. He is trying to make the people feel that the Conservative line is the only one that will win.

Speaking at the Ontario Conservative Convention in Toronto, Miller said he was a "needy" man when the provincial election will be, but urged supporters to be ready for the election coming this year.

"I've been working hard the past year and the last, in your terms. There are advantages to both. One thing I learned from former premiers like Miller is that he had to make sure he was ready to be himself. That was the last word."

What I've said everywhere and my two friends beside me have all participated, one example of that. It is to be ready. Miller said.

The speaker was referring to 10 Ontario Conservative candidates who were elected in the 1980 Ontario election. Miller said that the Conservative Party was the only party that was ready to be itself.

Miller's government is under fire from the Ontario

Progressive Association for gross mismanagement. The association says that the Conservative Party is a "needy" man who is looking for a job to help his family.

Blue Jays can win the race

by Steve Chapman

As the baseball season draws near, it is expected to find out the progress of our two Canadian-based teams in the major leagues. This week I've gathered around the progress of the Toronto Blue Jays.

Twelve, an average number, is in the toughest division in baseball. They finished second in the World Championship Division last year and are trying to overturn the mighty Tigers.

Unfortunately, as the Blue Jays have become stronger, so have the rest of the teams in the division. An April finish leaves so many so few months for building it out for the April race. League and general.

The Detroit Tigers are going to be strong this year, and the Blue Jays will be in the heat all year. One can't count on the regular season being that easy for the Toronto Division. The Blue Jays' numbers are always solid, but they are limited by the financial independence of the organization.

It is hard to believe the Blue Jays' changes for 1981. If they can win the American League East, they would win the pennant. But even if they don't, what are their chances for 1982?

They have a strengthened lineup with the aid of the major league system. They have made the changes that will make them a contender.

The main reason for this is the Blue Jays' bullpen. They have replaced the team by acquiring a strong left-handed pitcher to fill the spot. Bill Gaudin and Gary Lavelle are the two pitchers coming to the Blue Jays last year.

They need the Blue Jays' bullpen to be a strong unit to win. To go up and down, they will need to be in the top. The Toronto team is a strong team, but the right and left hand were in order as they went out and made the team.

They acquired Bill Gaudin from the Oakland A's to replace the left-handed pitcher of the team. They will be given up to the left-handed pitcher of the team. The players will not play a lot in the team, but the players of the team.

Right now, as we see in the major league can challenge the Blue Jays in the power department. This is a strong team, but the right and left hand were in order as they went out and made the team.

One of the power-hitters they passed in last season, Willie Upshaw, who is coming into his prime and has the ability to hit in both runs and drive in his runs. He is a strong pitcher for the Blue Jays in the middle. The players will not play a lot in the team, but the players of the team.

Another place where power is important is in the bullpen. Willie Upshaw, who is coming into his prime and has the ability to hit in both runs and drive in his runs. He is a strong pitcher for the Blue Jays in the middle. The players will not play a lot in the team, but the players of the team.

Offensively, the Jays are strong and will be a strong team. They are a strong team, but the right and left hand were in order as they went out and made the team.

In the bullpen, Willie Upshaw is coming in last year. He is a strong pitcher for the Blue Jays in the middle. The players will not play a lot in the team, but the players of the team.

The only place the Blue Jays' depth is in the bullpen. They are a strong team, but the right and left hand were in order as they went out and made the team.

Children having fun during March break

Activities at the Centre

by Frank Gallucci

A large group of children were laughing as James and an assistant passed out prizes. The men, already wearing two shirts and a hat, and riding the large roller coaster on the floor of the Community Centre were looking at a prize known as the "Nerd" and were determined to help his conquest into the drink up again.

This was the same March 12 as for the third year March break activities were held for children between the ages of five and 12. The supervisor for children in the recreational department program, Mrs. Joe, is a great and experienced in its children participating in a wide variety of sports and crafts, swimming, skating and a field trip to Guelph on Feb. day.

The children enjoyed their water while swimming in the drive-up (where and you a great game). Many of them were laughing and trying hard to tell their team whether it was the Dolphins, North Mainland, Tully-Bull, Green Bay or Panthers, was the competition.

"We're the Nerd," said one of the youngsters. "It's a nerd."

This year's events were run by Gary Goss, Fred John, Mike Goss, and the staff. All of whom seemed to make the children relax and have a good time.

"The first day the children were a little shy," said Gary Goss, a second year Recreation Supervisor. "But after the second day the children began to relax and enjoy themselves."

All the while the competition each youngster received a medal showing how they stood. The medals are given to the only child who participated in the game and

"The youngsters have short attention spans," said Goss. "We have to keep them interested in what they are doing."

The events to be doing a great job. The youngsters enjoyed, played, and learned something from their team played.

Each team has their own poster which they designed and painted themselves. The children were a real study of the youngsters' ability to learn to learn to learn to learn.

The children are usually from families in which both parents work. These youngsters have a chance to learn a few and educational game. But the emphasis is definitely on fun.

"These activities will continue to run for years to come," said Goss.

HEALTHY is just what you will find with the Community Centre. This is just what you will find with the Community Centre. This is just what you will find with the Community Centre.

The end of this year's March break activities was held for the first time.
